Message from the President

PRIVATE HIGHER EDUCATION IN AMERICA NEEDS YOUR SUPPORT

Two recent articles, one in Time and one in Fortune, indicate the great need for diversity in higher education for every segment of our society. BUT, these articles stress, private education is in grave danger of decline and extinction unless it finds a solution for the following problems.

Educational costs have risen and will continue to rise. Teachers salaries, wages, instructional aids, the cost of building, operating and renovating physical facilities, and the rising cost of food service have forced the private institutions to raise their tuition costs — We receive no state or local tax monies, and we must rely on economy in operation and assistance from our alumnae and friends of the college to maintain our tradition of excellence.

Schools, colleges, and universities have had an over whelming increase in enrollment over the past two decades. There were fifty new junior colleges opened just last year in our nation. As the Federal, State, and Local government subsidise education in these institutions, the cost to the student is reduced. Quite naturally students and their parents must consider this cost. The consequence is that each year many students who would attend the private college are electing to take the "bargain education", and the enrollment of highly qualified students is being curtailed in the private institutions.

WHAT CAN YOU DO TO HELP GULF PARK COLLEGE CONTINUE TO GROW AND DEVELOP?

You can give financial aid through contributing money, property, estates, stocks, and bonds, or by making Gulf Park a beneficiary of your life insurance. If you have not reached the point in your life where you are capable of performing any of the above, perhaps you can help in a lesser way. Even the gift of one library book can aid students in the years to come. (Our annual library budget is about 6% of our total educational and general budget.)

You can give your services by helping us influence, recruit, and enroll highly qualified students from your areas so that they too may obtain a well-rounded education which will help them solve the complex problems of our world today.

We deeply appreciate the contributions which have been made during your years as alumnae; and we certainly could not have done without contacts which have made with prospective students. We encourage you to intensify your efforts so that your institution will not be one that survives, but one that is outstanding in every respect.

Gulf Park Awards the Palm

by Polly Ritter

Five Gulf Park College Sophomores, Lee Ann Caldwell, Pat Flanagan, Mary Franklin, Charlotte Grist, and Linda Wills, have been chosen for Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges. They have been chosen by an officially designated committee composed of members of the faculty, the administrative staff, and the residence counselors on the basis of their scholarship, their leadership, participation in educational and extracurricular activities, general citizenship, and promise of future usefulness. The final acceptance was made by the organization. Thumb-nail sketches are given below of those selected for this high honor.

LEE ANN CALDWELL from Augusta, Georgia, is President of Phi Theta Kappa; is a member of the Dance League and the Philharmonic Club; and was elected "Most Intellectual".

PAT FLANAGAN from Pikeville, Kentucky, is the President of the Student Body; is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and of Kappa Chi; was a Fashion Revue Model; and was elected "Most Likely to Succeed".

MARY FRANKLIN from Nashville, Tennessee, is Secretary of the Sophomore Class, President of Sigma Psi Iota, the Pan-Hellenic Representative to the Student Government, and was also elected "Most Versatile".

CHARLOTTE GRIST from Blakely, Georgia, is President of the Sophomore Class, a biology laboratory assistant, a member of Delta Chi Sigma and of Aquettes, and was elected "Miss Gulf Park".

LINDA WILLS from Shelbyville, Kentucky, is Sophomore Class Treasurer, Editor of the Sea Gull, Vice-President of Phi Theta Kappa, Chaplain of Kappa Chi, a Fashion Revue Model, and was elected "Most Dependable".

Each new member of Who's Who is listed under the college from which she was nominated and has a written biography of her campus and personal achievements in the annual publication. This book is used across the country by businessmen in a recruitment program to secure competent young employees.

Miss Gulf Park

by Deborah O'Daniel

The highest honor than can be conferred upon a student by the vote of her classmates has been given Miss Charlotte Grist, through her election as "Miss Gulf Park for 1968." The one chosen for this honor represents a composite of what students feel is the ideal Gulf Park girl.

Charlotte's quiet, unassuming leadership, the warmth and sincerity of her friendship, and her high ideals have endeared her to her fellow students. They have found her to be worthy of emulation. Yes, she is an All-American girl!

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Grist of Blakely, Georgia. Throughout the year she has been outstanding as President of the Sophomore Class and as Vice President of Student Government. She is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, Delta Chi Sigma Sorority, Aquettes and the Physical Education Club. She is a laboratory assistant in biology.

She was presented to the student body as the climax to the spring fashion revue. (See picture on the cover.)

MUSICAL NOTES

by Helen Turner

This has been a full and exciting year for Gulf Park's Music Department. Entertaining has become an everyday occurence in one way or another.

Starting the year off with a bang, Mr. Christmas gave an outdoor recital under Friendship Oak in early October. It was the perfect setting for the light classical music he presented that evening. The audience sat in Friendship Oak and on blankets on the ground.

The Music Department was off again joining the Dance and Speech Departments with the Production of Bore IV, based on old movies.

Bringing some classical vocal selections to campus, Mr. Jimmie Capel presented an impressive voice recital in December. He was accompanied by Mr. Christmas at the piano.

The Glee Club in a Christmas mood joined the Keesler Male Chorus in presenting Arthur Honegger's King David with our own Mr. Capel conducting. Performing twice on our campus and once at Keesler, the girls were kept in the Christmas spirit and on the move.

The Sextette back in action again showed their talent at the annual alumnae luncheon in March with excerpts from "The Fantastiks." They have been honored by singing for several civic organizations as well as for the Southeastern Conference for Teachers of English. These six talented girls are: Lee Ann Caldwell, Suzy Carlton, Joy Dunn, Livi Mullen, Jeanie Rhoades, and Muffet Triggs (shown in the picture to the right, with the exception of Miss Caldwell).

To start off March right, the Music Department joined forces with the Drama and Dance Departments to put on the fun-loving musical, "Once Upon a Mattress."

Adding something new and different, Lt. Arthur L. Barnes and Mr. Christmas gave a two piano recital in April, with MacMahan Gibbs assisting. Their presentations of The Carnival of the Animals, with poems by Ogden Nash, Rachmaniniv's Suite No. 2, and Infante's Three American Dances were delightful.

SORORITY ANTICS

by Lucy Carol Johnson

On February 19, the six sororities joined together in the annual presentation of Attic Antics or fun skits. Delta Chi presented "Columbo", a take-off in rhymed form on the discovery of America. This skit, written by Liz Gilmer, was quite creative. Sigma Psi followed with "Sigma Psi Movie House", a review of commercials and movies from the gay twenties to the sixties. Gamma Psi presented "Days of Our Lives", a satire on a typical day at Gulf Park. This was followed by Delta Alpha's "Flower Power", a tongue-in-cheek comparison of hippies and the government. "In the Spring the Easter Bunny's Fancy Turns to Thoughts of . . . .?" was presented by Theta Alpha. This evening of fun was climaxed by "Peanuts on Half Shell", presented by Kappa Chi, bringing to life the familiar peanut characters.

While the judges were tallying the points, the sororities engaged in singing their songs and other favorites of the day. The judges' decisions gave Kappa Chi first, Delta Chi second, and Theta Alpha third.

As the evening of excitement and hard work came to a close, everyone realized that the end of another year is one step closer.

ART ACTIVITIES

By Dora Hill

Things have been really bustling around the Art Building this Spring. Everyone is getting ready for the show at the end of school. The girls in design have demonstrated their abilities in pen and ink sketches, which have turned out to be beautiful when matted. Now students are trying their hand at pastels. The oil painting classes are getting more difficult "set-ups" as the year progresses. If one favors water colors, Miss Wilkinson's class is just the place to go. Some excellent portrait work is being produced under the direction of Miss deVries.

Art affords the student an opportunity to demonstrate talent and individuality. Students can proudly display the fruits of this year's labors.

SORORITY SPORTS

by Cathy Collins

Bowling

The sorority bowling tournament began the activities for the second semester. On February 10, the sororities met at Triangle Lanes. After three nerve-racking but enjoyable games, Delta Alpha Sigma had the highest total score and received its second sports' trophy of the year. Second place went to Kappa Chi; and third place, to Theta Alpha. Win or lose, it was a very enjoyable day for all of the participants.

Softball

March 16 was filled with both SUNSHINE and EXCITEMENT. At 9:30 a.m. the six sororities met on the back campus to compete for the Sorority Softball Trophy.

It must have been Suzanne Simpson's day as she pitched three winning games against Delta Chi, Theta Alpha, and the final game with Sigma Psi, winning the trophy for Delta Alpha Sigma. Even though the trophy was won, it was not all over. On Monday, March 18, Delta Alpha showed their true skill as they met the faculty on the diamond to determine the Victor, brain or brawn. The "brains" won out!

The teams consisted of Sherrie Jacobs, Suzanne Simpson, Kate Sparks, Anne Lowrey, Lila Porter, Karolyn Bayley, Kathy Murphy, Betty Eyles, and Anna McGuffey for Delta Alpha; Connie Shaver, Lucy Johnson, Carol McInnis, Charlotte Grist, Susan Jaffee, Lenora Elder, Mary Filson, Debbie Harmon, and Marilyn Blaske for Delta Chi; Cathy Collins, Nancy Bowman, Karen Wilson, Amy Evans, Kathy Hagemeyer, Dell DeLee, Jean Meisenheimer, Betsy Barrett, Sherry Ridley, and Lee Ann Bailey for Gama Psi; Debbie Coe, Carole Ward, Pat Flanagan, Norma Wing, Joy Crosthwait, Sue Stevens, Becky Miller, and Jane

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES

by Nancy Carson

To set the "Spirit of Christmas" into full swing, the members of the Student Government decorated the huge tree in the Reception Room in Hardy Hall, lighted it, and then awakened the students in all three dorms to join in caroling and then in having hot chocolate. Other activities of the season included the Pace Setters' Party, for which the home economics girls prepared the food, decorations and all the appointments; and the Bit and Spur Club's Party for the horses. Dormitory doorways were decorated; there were smoker parties and lighted trees everywhere. On Sunday evening, preceding the holidays, Santa arrived by sleigh, and the members of the Keesler Male Chorus serenaded the Gulf Park girls. On Thursday evening the annual Christmas Banquet, following the presentation of King David, combining the voices of the Gulf Park Glee Club and the Keesler Male Chorus, climaxed the campus activities of the Christmas Season.

CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR UNDERPRIVILEGED CHILDREN

by Nancy Carson

Just before the Christmas holidays, the sororities of Gulf Park entertained a group of underprivledged children with a party held in the school auditorium. The children arrived at 4:30 and stayed until 6:00. During that time, each Gulf Park girl found the child assigned to her, and they became acquainted.

Each child was served cookies, punch, candy, and fruit. Then the group sang carols and the children talked in high-pitched tones. Excitement rang from the rafters. Everyone knew that Santa Claus (Col. Eugene Wink) would soon be making his appearance, and joyful anticipation marked each one's face with a soft glow. The jolly old man didn't hesitate at all. With a cheerful "ho, ho, ho, he swept into the auditorium bringing with him all shapes and sizes of multicolored packages. After the "oh's and ah's" had quieted down, Santa proceeded to call out each child's name. Bright paper and ribbons were strewn all over the floor amid cries of, "Wow, look what I got!"

After the wrappings had been cleared away, all joined in for a last song. The Gulf Park girls then escorted their "little ones" to a waiting bus outside the auditorium. The night air rang with voices raised in a last "good-bye", as the bus departed, leaving each Gulf Park girl with a warm sense of satisfaction in having done something really worthwhile, a feeling that lingered throughout the holidays.

NEW DEPARTMENT OF RETAIL MERCHANDISING

by Phyllis Garner

Gulf Park College will open a new Department of Retail Merchandising next year. The school will offer a two-year terminal curriculum leading to an Associate in Science Degree.

Proposed courses to be offered are advertising and sales promotion, buying, color and design, display, fabrics, fashion creation and trends, history or costume, merchandising, salesmanship, speech, and store control and operation. There will be additional courses such as elementary accounting and business mathematics, business communications, typing, economics, and two years of English.

Believing that an employee whose personal appearance and manners are such that she will be an asset wherever she works, a personal appearance clinic will meet for one hour each day. Since a cultural background is also essential to success in business and community life, the students will attend special programs, plays, operas, and lectures in New Orleans and on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The students will attend one of the largest apparel markets in the world in Dallas.

A selling intership will begin the week before Thanksgiving and continue through December 23, which will permit the students to arrive home on December 24. Since the students will have Thanksgiving Day only as a holiday, they will not be permitted to go home for the Thanksgiving holidays. The students will work on a full-time basis of forty paid hours per week.

The cost per student for this course is $3,000, which is only $650 more than the regular room, board, and tuition. This extra fee is not a tuition charge but covers the cost of transportation to the Dallas Mart and hotel accommodations in Dallas, excluding meals. It also includes the cost of transportation to and from work during the selling internship, tickets and transportation to cultural events in New Orleans and on the Coast, lectures, and other social events.

A student must have attained better than average grades in high school and must have a definite interest in this type of program. Full details may be secured through the Director of Admissions, Gulf Park College, Long Beach, Mississippi 39560.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF TEACHERS OF ENGLISH

by Deborah O'Daniel

Miss Anna Mae Helton, English instructor at Gulf Park College, attended the Fifty-Seventh Annual Meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English in Honolulu, Hawaii, on November 21-25. Universities and colleges in the United States, Puerto Rico, and Canada were represented at the convention. Dr. Albert M. Marckward of Princeton University was the President of the NCTE. Those attending had the opportunity of hearing Dr. Marckward speak, as well as the American novelist, Jessamyn West, and Dr. Paul Woodring, Education Editor of the Saturday Review. The grand finale of the convention was a Hawaiian-style banquet with Mr. C. Day Lewis, an Anglo-Irish poet and novelist, as the speaker. Miss Helton returned to Gulf Park safely with many souvenirs for the faculty and students, and with renewed enthusiasm from her exciting experiences.

SOUTHEASTERN ENGLISH CONFERENCE

by Liz Gilmer

The weekend of February 23, the English Departments of Gulf Park and the Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College District hosted the Southeastern Conference on College Composition and Communication held at the Edgewater Gulf Hotel.

President Sadler, Dean Johnson, Miss Helton, Col. Polsgrove, and Mr. Shafer were instrumental in organizing and conducting the conference. Gulf Park students helped with registration, and the sextette performed at the banquet Friday night.

In attendance were junior college English teachers from all Southeastern states, and from such distant states as California, Illinois, and New Jersey.

The conference program included speeches and panel discussions regarding the aims of the English curriculum in the junior college.

SCOPE CONFERENCE

by Lee Caldwell

On Thursday, April 18, Miss Lee Caldwell, a sophomore, and Miss Susan Stephens, a freshman, will be attending the eleventh annual Scope Conference. The 1968 session will be held at the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg. This conference will be an informal seminar to discuss the 1968 elections. Its purpose is to aid in developing responsive and enlightened citizens. Outstanding students are chosen by numerous college to attend the conference. To stimulate interest, well-known authorities will speak and other officials will lead and advise the discussion groups. Scope promises to be an interesting and informative convention.

MARDI GRAS IN NEW ORLEANS

by Amy Strong

Mardi Gras in New Orleans was an exciting experience for Gulf Park students, most of them witnessing for the first time any part of the Carnival Season. Many students enjoyed a weekend of festivities, accompanied by their parents or friends; others went to New Orleans for Mardi Gras Day on Tuesday to see the Rex and Comus parades and to share the exotic revelry of the day.

During the Mardi Gras Season there were sixteen excited girls from Gulf Park who received personal invitations to attend the Rex and Babylon Balls in New Orleans. The Babylon Ball was held on Wednesday, February 21, with ten of the girls attending. This ball is quite distinguished in that it is one of the oldest, celebrated since the beginning of carnival.

On the evening of Shrove Tuesday before Ash Wednesday the Rex Ball took place with the King and Queen of Rex reigning. Six Gulf Park girls were thrilled to be a part of such a beautiful and elaborate ball.

Returning to the campus, each one could not begin to describe the splendor and grandeur displayed at the magnificent balls of the Mardi Gras season! One girl exclaimed, "I felt like Cinderella at the ball!"

Mardi Gras — the costumes, the colors, the parades, the flambeaux, the balls and the crowd itself — is an experience no student will ever forget. Only by being a part of it can one understand the meaning of "the City that care forgot".

ONCE UPON A MATTRESS

This story I tell took place long ago,
When a witch cast a spell on Septimus the bold.
From that moment on no more could he talk,
Until the mouse could devour the hawk.

So many years past, but not at all well,
The Queen took advantage and gave that king hell.
Also unhappy was the son of the king,
For Dauntless the Drab was a poor, babied thing.

Then one summer day the son had his chance
To meet a fair princess and start a a romance.

The queen didn't want her baby to wed,
So a test was conceived for the Princess called Fred.

If she felt a pea, though under the bed,
Then proof of nobility made her worthy to wed.
So after the test, when the princess had won,
The queen took back all that was said to her son.

But Dauntless the Drab, who indeed was in love,
Suddenly changed to a hawk from a dove.
Then his mother turned mute and his father could talk,
For indeed the mouse had devoured the hawk.

Once Upon A Mattress

by Helen Turner

Once Upon a Mattress, a joint production of the Department of Speech and Theatre Arts and the Department of Music, played for three nights, March 6, 7, and 8, in the Gulf Park Auditorium and one night at Arnold Hall at Keesler Air Force Base, March 10. Revues indicate that each performance was an outstanding success.

A favorite tale with a new zany touch, gay music and zestful dances made the play delightful entertainment for packed audiences each evening. At Arnold Hall, the airmen fell in love with the leading lady, a princess called Fred, played by Sally Sockwell. She did a wonderful job; and at the conclusion of the performance, she was presented a bouquet of red carnations. Sally is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Sockwell of Little Rock, Arkansas. Her mother, the former Patricia McCord, is a Gulf Park alumnae.

Carolyn Staples showed her forceful self in the role of Queen Aggraven as she took charge of everything, including her son's life. Joy Dunn, who carried the musical lead as Lady Larkin, displayed zest and talent in her performance as the lover of Sir Harry. She, too, is the daughter of a Gulf Park alumnae, Mrs. Royce Jeffery Dunn of Arlington, Texas. Lt. Otto Wusnack, head of the Keesler Male Chorus, carried the role of Sir Harry; and Don Dorris delighted the audience in his portrayal of Dauntless, varying from the babied to the out-spoken son.

MacMahon Gibbs, an old favorite in Jet Maskers' productions, did an outstanding job in the character role as the mute King Sextimus.

The full female cast was composed of Sally Sockwell, Carolyn Staples, Joy Dunn, Marlain Weisel, Carol Sheets, Cheri McKee, Bette Norwood, Gwen Fleming, Brenda Conley, Sherrie Jacobs, Livi Mullen, Pam Olheiser, Diane Stewart and Carol Pylant; and the male cast, Brad Smith, John Kuntzman, MacMahon Gibbs, Don Dorris, Neville Gagignnai, Otto Wusnack, Bill Arnau, Paul Bagnes, Bob Buchaut, Dane Hart, Richard Swartz, Dencil Ticer and Lyle Zimmerman.

Miss Helen Picking, dramatics director, was assisted in this production by Mr. James Capel and Mr. Don Christmas as musical directors; Miss Robin Johnson as choreographer; and Mr. Nels Anderson as technical director. Jim Morehead was in charge of set decorations; and Brenda Conley served as stage manager, with Helen Turner and Vickie Cousins as production assistants.

NEW GUIDANCE COUNSELOR

by Julie Jones

With the departure of Lt. David Smith for Vietnam, Gulf Park students and faculty bade farewell to a good friend and advisor. Now Gulf Park welcomes a new addition to its counseling staff, Mr. J. B. Balch.

Mr. Balch was born in Shaker Heights, Ohio. He was graduated from Yale University. Before coming to Gulf Park, he taught at William and Mary and at Humboldt State College in California; and he worked for Stanford University. Mr. Balch devoted some time to the Peace Corps, working in the psychological assessment department. This division decides whether or not applicants will be sent overseas.

Besides serving as guidance counselor here at Gulf Park, Mr. Balch is working toward the completion of his doctorate in psychology. He is also an assistant professor of psychology, teaching four nights a week at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Mr. Balch is married, and the Balches have two children. In his spare time, he enjoys fishing and sailing. Mr. Balch can be found in the counselor's office every day from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

ALUMNAE WEEKEND

by Cathy Collins

On Thursday, March 7, graduates of Gulf Park, ranging from the class of 1923 to the Class of 1967, traveled from all over the country to visit their beloved Alma Mater. The Alumnae were invited to visit classes and dormitories. Later Thursday afternoon, the Alumnae took off for Huckleberry Hill, where they could relive, for a brief moment, many wonderful memories. After the marvelous production of "Once Upon a Mattress", Thursday night, the student body joined together in a song-fest under FRIENDSHIP OAK. Following the song-fest, the Sophomore Class gave a candle-light serenade around the fountain in Hardy Courtyard — both voices and hearts were joined in the friendship circle.

At the Alumnae Luncheon, Miss Bea Field, Director of the Tulane Alumni Association, spoke on the advantages of an Alumnae Association, based on a national level. The Gulf Park Sextette, composed of Suzie Carlton, Livi Mullen, Lee Caldwell, Muffet Triggs, Joy Dunn, and Jeannie Rhodes, entertained with a medley from "The Fantastiks". That afternoon, President Sadler was host to the Alumnae Tea at his home. Friday night, after another performance of the Spring Musical Festival, the Sophomores were hostesses at an open house honoring the Alumnae in the newly remodeled Sophomore Smoker.

And thus ended another very enjoyable Alumnae Reunion. As the weekend came to a close, the Alumnae knew a new, more advanced Gulf Park; and the students knew new friends, all bound together by a common factor,

"This our Alma Mater,
Will forever be
Loved and honored and cherished,
Gulf Park by the sea
We will sing thy praises
And to thee be true,
May our loyal sisters
From thee blessings accrue;
Give them of thy bounty,
Of thy happiness, too.

VARIETY IN PROGRAMS

by Helen Turner

Variety has been the keynote of assembly and artist programs at Gulf Park this year. Much credit goes to Miss Helen Picking who has served as chairman in the selection of the lecture-artist series and for assembly programs this year, working with students and faculty members to coordinate a well-rounded and interesting program.

There have been three artist-lecture series programs this year — Dr. Louis Binstock in an inspiring lecture spoke on the Book of Memoires by Stalin's daughter, Sdetlana Alliluyea; the National Players presented Much Ado About Nothing; and climaxing the artists' series were Irene Callaway, soprano, and Peter Harrower, baritone, in a delightful program of duets and solos of operatic arias and art songs. Their encore was, "Bess, Yo Is My Woman Now" from Porgy and Bess.

There has been great variety and much student participation in assembly programs. A recent program which was very stimulating and thought-provoking was a panel discussion, presented by sociology students, "What is in the future for women?" Sylvia Roempke, sponsored by Jet Maskers, gave an interesting review on Helen

by Karen Doyle

Photographer's models zipped in and out of a colorful studio setting in Fashion Blow-Up, presented by the Secretarial Science Club in February. A quick moving photographer kept the attractive and well-trained models moving through many unusual scenes, settings, poses and groupings. Set designs were by Nels Anderson, instructor in Speech and Theatre Arts; and Miss Jan Nelson, also a member of the faculty, assisted with group choreography. Mrs. Lois Toomer and Mrs. Jennifer Bower Moore assisted with model training. The show was under the direction of Miss Jeannette Brock, Head of the Secretarial Science Department.

Meg Gaffey, modeling for Gayfer's, and Carolyn Gay Evett, modeling for Northrops, were commentators. Scene sequences were entitled Morning Shots, Sun Flashes, Daylight Poses, Evening Focus, Fun Stills, Colors Filtered and Studio Sequences. Throughout the show, there was background chamber music by a trio, Florence Ellick, violin; Betty Page, cello; and Betty McLaughlan, piano.

Participating fashion houses were Brumfield's, Ellis Salloum's, Penney's, Elite Shoppe, Ideal Shop, Northrop's, M. Salloum's, Shamis', Godchaux's, Dorothy Brown Shop, Maison Blanche, Golding's, Gene Warr's, La Boutique, Gus Mayer's, Budd's, and Gayfer's.

Participating as models were Misses Vickie Cousins, Sally Happer, Helen Turner, Julia Davis, Deborah O'Daniel, Norma Wing, Bette Norwood, Pam Oldheiser, Jan Davis, Pat Summers, Carol Pylant, Brenda Pierce, Deborah Franklin, Carol Craven, Charlotte Moore, Marlain Weisel, Suzie Carlton, Linda Wills, Nancy Johnson, Phyllis Garner, Carla Carter, Cynthia Puckett, Janet Radebaugh, Marcia Futch, Julie Jones, Carol Ward, Elizabeth Gilmer, Nancy Butz, Becky Fritz, Suzanne Scott, Marilyn Blaske, Pam Podger, Valda Richmond, Karen Moore, Sandy Lauricella, Lynda Matthews, Karen Doyle, Connie Ware, Cindy Ingram, Pat Flanagan, Joan Redmon, Mary Filson, Amy Strong, Betty Hildebrand, Pris Brooks, Jan Waltman, Pattye Smith, Karen Kelley, Judy Gilmour, Eleanor Stowe, Jerry Ann Aycock, Susan Allen, Lee Ann Bailey, Alexandra Buschman, Nancy Butz, Mary Conner, and Rosalyn Ezell.

Special recognition is given to Mrs. Marie Langlois of the Daily Herald for her excellent coverage of the show. The above contains many excerpts from her write-up.

Climaxing the one-hour showing of the newest spring and summer outfits from fashion houses along the Gulf Coast and New Orleans was the traditional presentation of Miss Gulf Park — Miss Charlotte Grist of Blakely, Georgia, shown on the cover of this issue of Tammy.

MEET NANCY CARSON!

A real and very much alive girl from Greenville, Georgia, who has corresponded all year with new students for next year. Many have asked if Nancy Carson is a pen name or if there is such a girl — there really is, and she will be on hand to welcome new students in September.

MR. DRAGO RECEIVES GRANT

by Amy Strong

Mr. Laurie A. Drago, instructor of history at Gulf Park, has received an appointment to participate in the NDEA Summer Institute in History being held at Tulane University from June 3 through July 12. This Summer Institute is for graduate study in Western Civilization. Drago has also had an article, "Revolt in Hungary, October-November, 1956," accepted for publication by the University of Southern Mississippi's Southern Quarterly.

NATCHEZ PILGRIMAGE

by Germaine Schanzmeyer

A bus filled with anticipating girls left Gulf Park on Saturday, March 2, with historic Natchez as their destination. Enroute a tour was taken at the Civil War battlefield at Vicksburg. Everyone enjoyed seeing the monuments honoring various states. After checking in at the Eola Hotel in Nachez, the group attended the "Confederate Pageant". Scenes depicting life in Natchez in the antebellum days were presented. The beautiful gowns worn by the members of the pageant's cast, flowers and dancing highlighted the show.

On Sunday, the past was reentered as Gulf Park students visited elegant old homes of the South. Morning tours were taken of the Elgin Plantation, Melrose, Twin Oaks, Holly Hedges and Cherokee. In the afternoon Briars, Richmond, Rosalie, the Parsonage and Evansview were included in the tour. Not only did everyone enjoy viewing these homes, but they also enjoyed added attractions such as a possible horse-and-buggy ride at Rosalie, standing in the same room in which Jefferson Davis was married, and seeing General Grant's bedroom.

On Monday a tour was taken of one of the South's finest universities, Louisiana State. The Gulf Park students had lunch at the student union cafeteria.

The tired but happy group of Gulf Park students arrived back on campus late Monday afternoon; and they will surely hold happy memories of the trip in their minds for weeks to come. For each person on the pilgrimage, history came alive and with it a deeper understanding of a romantic era that has passed.

VARIETY IN PROGRAMS (continued from Page 13)

Hayes' Gift of Joy and did several readings. The Science Department has been instrumental in arranging several programs on space through outstanding speakers from NASA. There was a program on Carl Sandburg; and numerous programs in the field of the arts bringing in guests from the Gulfport Little Theatre, the Biloxi Little Theatre, and the Gulf Coast Theatre of Arts. An always popular speaker, appearing at assembly twice this year, is Mr. Keith Tonkel, instructor in philosophy, who brings food for thought in a language that appeals to the students. Kudos were presented on May 1; and May 15 there will be an Honor Awards Day.

Appreciation is expressed to Miss Helen Picking for her generosity in devoting so much of her time to the little things that add interest to student life at Gulf Park.

ALUMNAE

1968 ALUMNAE REUNION

Thursday and Friday, March 7 and 8, were exciting days at Gulf Park as its alumnae returned for the annual Reunion. There were alumnae present from each decade:

From the 1920's: Loucidel Thompson Wall, June Read Swetman, Laura Wilkinson, Elizabeth Eccles Holtane, Deborah Bennett Hewes.

From the 1930's: Wilma See Guenard, Verna Guenard Salvant, Ann Frances Mitchell Vinson (and Dr. Mitchell), Iva Mae Pilcher McDonald, Marion Wheelock, Yvonne Jamison Harrison, Juliet McCall Nichols, Edith Winans Leach and Helen Frances James.

From the 1940's: Patricia McCord Sockwell (and Mr. Sockwell), Betty Jemison, and Joan Dobbin Farris.

From the 1950's: Jacklyn Villars Lane, Jane Bettes Kemp, Betsy Rouse Douglas, Sue Mueller Sanderson (and her mother, Mrs. Mueller), Gretchen Andrews Bush (and Mr. Bush), Jeannie Robinson Wood, Laura Hussey Justice (and Mr. Justice), Esther Winegarden, Jacquelyn Westbrook Farris, Gladys McCallie Davis, and Mary Lee Flotte Lombard (and Mr. Lombard).

From the 1960's: Mary Robertson Piper, Margaret Meyn Calkin, Isabelle Campbell Bankston, Jane McPherson Ezell, Elaine Klepac Cuneo (and her mother, Mrs. Klepac), Louise Womack Settle, Daphne Moore, Francis Smith, Jean Henderson, Ellen Mott, Helen Dickerson Martin, Patty Gessler, Donna Dickenson, and Linda Sparks.

Dr. Rupert H. Cooke, Vice President Emeritus, and Mrs. Dorothy Archer Stone, former instructor in the Dance, were also a part of the reunion.

It is never possible to get a complete guest list. Please call to our attention any omission.

The schedule was full of planned activities; yet there was ample opportunity for each alumnae to browse about campus to find the things that are unchanged and to appreciate the many improvements that have been made. It was a wonderful experience for everyone.

NEW ORLEANS GROUP PLANS OCTOBER MEETING

The Gulf Park Alumnae Club in New Orleans held its fourth luncheon meeting at the Pontchartrain Hotel in April, with Miss Beatrice Field, Director of Alumni Relations for Tulane University, as guest speaker. Miss Field gave many suggestions as to the functions of an alumnae group and ways in which it may be of service to its alma mater.

An October meeting to include husbands of alumnae will be held at the Tulane Alumni House. This will be a social function that will be of interest to the husbands. Further details about this meeting will be included in the Commencement issue of Tammy, which will come from the press about mid-summer.

Alumnae interested in joining the New Orleans Club should contact Mrs. Gail Bordenave Wilcox, Secretary, 9604 Marsha Drive, New Orleans, Louisiana 70123.

From the 1930's — Helen Frances James, Yvonne Jamison Harrison, Marion Wheelock, Edith Winans Leach, Juliet McCall Nichols, and Iva Mae Pilcher McDonald (They may not be listed in order).

To Gulf Park Alumnae:

In the twenty-five years of my association with Gulf Park College, I have gained a deep appreciation of its alumnae. My combined work as Director of Admissions and Alumnae Secretary brings into focus the many contributions that you, as alumnae, are making to your college. We are aware of the constant work you are doing in sending desirable students to Gulf Park.

The response to the Spring Reunion was excellent. There was a good group in attendance; but the response of all alumnae in sending in news and the names of prospective students showed a real strength of alumnae support and loyalty.

Two groups of alumnae have organized into active alumnae clubs — New Orleans and Denver. Dallas and Kansas City are interested in doing the same thing. Throughout the country alumnae have been helpful to the Gulf Park admissions counselors in the field, assisting them with contacts and arranging coke parties and other means of contact with prospective students.

To each of you we say, "Thank you."

ELIE DYE, A DESIGNER OF BOOKS

Elie Dye, '57, is now doing freelance graphic art and design in Boulder, Colorado. She was recently recognized in Outstanding Young Women of America, 1968 edition, because of her accomplishments. After graduation from Gulf Park, Elie attended Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and was graduated with distinction from Sophie Newcomb College of Tulane University. She also received the Millie Palfrey Prize in Art, given to the outstanding art student recommended by the faculty.

At Gulf Park, Elie was Editor-in-chief and Arts Editor of the Sea Gull. This book, which contained many scratchboard illustrations and carried the theme of the sea, received national recognition among college annuals. At Miami University, she was Assistant Art Editor of the yearbook and served on the Dormitory Council. At Newcomb, she was secretary of the University Center Fine Arts Committee, artist for the Tulane Handbook and Student Directory, secretary of Alpha Delta Pi national sorority, a Newcomb Big Sister, and the Tulane Mardi Gras Queen. As her major art project at Newcomb, Elie designed a 72-page book demonstrating experimental uses of type, type ornaments, handcut woodlocks, ink, and paper. A wall display connected with the project was shown before the Advertising Club of New Orleans. This book was mentioned and pictured in the July-August, 1960, issue of Print magazine and in the July, 1960, issue of American Paper Merchant. One of her etchings was awarded a purchase prize at the Ninth Southwestern Exhibit of Prints and Drawings at the Dallas (Texas) Museum of Fine Arts in January, 1950. The same print was exhibited at the Oklahoma Printmakers Society First National Exhibit in February, 1959.

Elie's first job was with Time, Inc., in Life Promotion Art. Her work was in the design field, and consisted of filling in for the secretary-designer who was on leave of absence. She was then with American Heritage Publishing Company from 1961 to 1965 as an art director. Her work involved the design, layouts, and production of various editorial projects, most of which were books. Her major projects with American Heritage included the Book of Indians, New Illustrated History of the United States, The American Heritage Cookbook, four volumes of the American Heritage Junior Library, and the History of the Great West.

In 1966-67, Elie was Art Director for Earth Science Curriculum Project in Boulder, Colorado. She is now freelancing, still in book design, in Boulder. Her address there is 2975 East College # 22.

A number of the books that she has designed are being added to the Gulf Park College Library. The college is anxious to know about publications of its alumnae.

Several other Gulf Park College alumnae have been included in the 1968 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America. Tammy will run articles on them as soon as we receive complete biographical data.
